MACKENSEN'S VICTORY ONE OF WIDE SCOPE

Entire Railroad System in Dobrudja Falls in Teuton's Hands.

(Associated Press Cable.)
London, October 24.—Virtually the entire Constanza-Tchernavoda railway line, in the Dobrudja, is now in the hands of Field Marshal von Mackensen's victorious forces. It appears from a Russian official statement today admitting the evacuation by the Russians and Roumanians of Medjidie.

Medjidie is approximately twenty miles inland from Constanza, the Black Sea port and terminus of the railway, the fall of which to the armies of the Central Powers was reported yesterday.

The Russian-Roumanian line now runs along the heights north of Constanza and Medjidie, according to the Petrograd announcement.

On the Somme

(Associated Press Cable.)
London, October 24.—The Somme front situation was little changed overnight. London reports that the British have fully consolidated the ground gained yesterday, and earliest reports showed that 1,000 yards of German trenches were taken.

There was no infantry action along the French lines in the Somme region, the most important happening being the development as a spirited artillery duel south of the river in the Blaches region.

The Serbians have made new gains in their campaign for Monastir, according to today's Paris reports on Macedonian operations, stopping a German-Bulgarian counter attack in the Cerna valley and then taking the offensive themselves and capturing several trenches.

BRITISH ATTEMPT TO BREAK LINES

(Associated Press Cable.)
Berlin, October 24.—In an attempt to break through the German lines on the Somme front at any cost, the British and French yesterday used a great number of troops in repeated attacks, the War Office announced today.

Their assault broke down with heavy loss. The defeat of the Allies was so severe, the statement says, that all along the front the dead are lying in one row after another.

BANKER'S TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

(Associated Press Dispatch.)
Galveston, Texas, October 24.—Only four jurors remained to be chosen when court convened today in the case of John Copeland, of Marshall, Texas, bank cashier, charged with killing William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer at Marshall last year.

BATTLE IN AIR

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, October 24.—A British naval aeroplane on October 23 attacked four German seaplanes over the Belgian coast and succeeded in destroying one of the machines and chasing the others away, the British Admiralty announced today.

It was hoped the jury would be completed by noon. Speculation as to the whereabouts of Sadie Black, the girl adopted by Black in Arkansas and taken with him in his travels up to the time of his death, was the chief topic of discussion today in court.

It was said the girl, who was one of the chief witnesses, had disappeared shortly after the tragedy.

BARS THE PROHIBS

(Associated Press Dispatch.)

Charleston, W. Va., October 24.—The Supreme Court of Appeals today decided that no political party organization not comprehended within the definition of the primary election law can participate in the general election November 7.

VILLAGERS FRIGHTEN BANK ROBBERS AWAY

(Associated Press Dispatch.)

Wooster, O., October 24.—After blowing off the three doors of the safe of the Holmesville Bank, burglars were scared away by the noise of the explosion, which aroused the villagers. A fourth door of the vault was locked upon $4,000.

Captain Tudor Says Rumor Persists at Nova Scotia That Raider Has Been Sent to Bottom.

(Associated Press Dispatch.)

Boston, October 24.—Captain W. G. Tudor, of the British steamship Hochelaga, which arrived today from Louisburg said that before he left Nova Scotia persistent rumors were current that the German U-boat U-53 has been sunk off Sydney, N. S., by the Canadian patrol boat Stanley.

Captain Tudor said no mention was made of the fate of the crew of the submarine.

GREEK AND FRENCH OFFICERS FRATERNIZE IN ATHENS

Twenty-five officers and 600 men of the Athens garrison went over to the national movement and left for Saloniki, according to a dispatch from Athens. Various other reports say that many of the officers of the Greek army, hating the Turks and Bulgarians, sympathize with the allied cause. The powers vested in the French officer who has been appointed chief inspector at the ministry of the interior by the French and English commanders in Athens are drastic and far-reaching enough to prevent a recurrence of rioting.

All orders to the police and gendarmerie and all reports received must pass through his hands. He will determine whether orders are in conformity with the laws of the country and the policy of benevolent neutrality which Greece promised to pursue.

REPORT ONE MORE SHIP LOST

Coast Guard Cutter Reports Another Vessel Sunk By Storm on Lakes.

(Associated Press Dispatch.)

Cleveland, O., October 24.—The Government coast guard cutter Morrell, sent from Cleveland Monday to patrol Lake Erie in search of bodies of the crews of three of four vessels wrecked in Friday's storm, reports by wireless today that she had found the mast of a second steamer ten miles south by east of the southeast shoals lightship.

The steamer, the report said, was unquestionably the Merida, which went down with her crew of twenty-three men.

The mast protruded six feet from the water, and soundings show that the vessel lies in six and one quarter fathoms of water.

The wireless said no bodies or wreckage had been sighted between the lightship and Rondeau and that the cutter was proceeding eastward on her search.

Information has reached Army circles from several sources that General Trevino is very short of ammunition.

BRITISH WILL TAKE OVER COAL

London, Oct. 25.—The Government is proposing to take over control of the coal industry of Great Britain in the near future, the main purpose of the scheme of nationalization being to give a certain power of control over the neutral shipping which coals at British ports. Coal owners will be allowed to take their present profits if the scheme goes through, but the Government will control the distribution of coal for home consumption, for export and for shipping. For some time past the government has used its authority over British shipping, to direct its courses most beneficial for the nation, but neutral steam shipping, though dependent on Britain for coal, has not recognized a resulting obligation to this country. The plan is that if the government owns the coal it will be in a position to stipulate the use the customer shall make of it and to require him to call for his return cargo at specified ports. In that way it is believed the whole of the shipping in British ports may be organized and directed.

SAYS OVEREATING BANKRUPTS MANY

Physical Insolvency Awaits For Those Who Abuse Stomachs.

MEALS SHOULD PAY DIVIDENDS

Tanlac Health Expert Chats In Novel Way of Bodily Problems and Describes New Treatment Which Has Proved Tremendous Success Everywhere Introduced—"Tired Feeling" No Joke.

"Are your meals paying you dividends?"

"Or are they plunging you into physical bankruptcy?"

These were novel questions the Tanlac health expert recently asked. He continued:

"Every meal you eat should give you more than mere satisfaction of your hunger. It should add to your supply of blood, bone and muscle. It should give you more strength, more vigor, more vitality to carry you pleasantly and profitably through life.

"Tired Feeling" No Joke.

"You will notice that some people never get plump. No matter how much or how little they eat, they remain scrawny and thin. They are weak, anemic, easily exhausted, and afflicted with 'that tired feeling,' which is no joke, but a symptom of dangerous illness on the way. Such people are seldom happy. They are always weary, and often nervous and irritable.

"They don't sleep well. Their stomach is a source of constant distress and discomfort. Belching and bloating from gas, headaches, dizziness, indigestion, dyspepsia, pains in the back, and other ailments keep them almost constantly miserable.

Tanlac Great Success.

"Tanlac, the new tonic which has been having such wonderful success everywhere it has been introduced, is designed to relieve disorders which have their origin in a run down condition of the digestive and assimilative organs. Its success as a reconstructive tonic, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer depends in large part upon its having aided digestion and promoted assimilation, so that food taken into the system becomes a benefit. When the stomach and other digestive organs are in good condition, the foundation of health has been laid."

Tanlac, the master medicine and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively in Washington C. H., by Blackmer & Tanquary. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows: Sabina, J. J. Spurgeon; Wilmington, Harry Christopher; Jeffersonville, J. B. Davis; Jamestown, W. F. Harper; Greenfield, Harry Christopher; Bainbridge, A. W. Fetter; Anderson, C. A. DR. FREDERICK BLANKNER, THE SPECIALIST, QUARANTINED AT ALICE INN, 225 MAIN STREET, WILMINGTON.

It will be remembered that the Doctor was here with us for several weeks before going to Wilmington. When he went to Wilmington he only expected to remain for a week, but his work soon became known and it inoculated the entire as well as the surrounding counties. The doctor wanted to go but was quarantined by the people as they all claimed that never before have they been inoculated with such a high quality of professional service. Yes good work does become infectious. There is no one immune all want the man that does something. People have come with all kinds of ailments to meet the doctor in a heart to heart talk and all are more than satisfied. Just think of it. During the past weeks that Doctor has been in Wilmington he has extracted nearly 3000 teeth. The doctors and dentists have sent him many patients, and endorse his work along the line of extracting teeth without pain as being the most scientific of accomplishments of any one that has ever visited Wilmington. There will be many people coming down to the great Festival that will be in full force this week and which promises to be the greatest ever held as all are taking a thorough interest in it. Every thing that is calculated to add to the pleasure of people has received the most careful attention. Now while here if afflicted in any way, and you desire to regain your health, or if you have a lot of diseased teeth that you wish extracted without pain you will be serving your-self wisely to make a little journey to the Alice Inn, No. 225, W. Main St. where the doctor will be pleased to serve you with the highest order of skill and judgment as well as with the very best of results. Roumania's Part

The progress of the war in Europe has been producing some wholly unexpected results—results which most experts not only fail to predict in advance but which are directly contrary to the prophecies of the men most skilled in military service. The national alliances promoted and conducted with the idea of gaining strength and strategic advantage often prove directly the reverse.

Right now critics and experts are pointing out that the addition of Roumania to the ranks of the Entente powers has resulted in weakening the forces opposing the central powers alliance.

The view now expressed is the direct opposite of the one almost unanimously given out when Roumania plunged into the fray.

Roumania, it now develops, according to experts, was not able to put a very large army into the Balkan campaign and in addition to that by overestimating the strength of the current against the Teutons and underestimating the strength of the Bulgars and Turks, plunged too soon into an offensive campaign and met with disaster which enabled Mackensen to push his counter offensive with crushing force.

The effect was a call for aid by Roumania and a weakening of the Entente lines in the west and east by the withdrawal of troops for the aid of Roumania and a consequent disarrangement of the whole concerted offensive which has given to the Teutons the advantage in the fighting of the last two weeks.

The entrance, therefore, of Roumania instead of hastening the ultimate victory of the Entente forces by opening up a pathway for Russia to the Balkans and the ultimate goal—the Dardanelles—has caused a slowing up and will carry the war over another winter at least.

That will enable the Teutons to reform their broken lines, secure reinforcements and perhaps new weapons of war which may turn the whole tide.

Thus, in war as in peace, do the “best laid plans of mice and men.”

Some Good News

The announcement that the handle factory, in the north-eastern part of the city, is to be opened and operated in the near future “bigger and better than ever,” as they say on the circus posters, is welcome news to a large number of Washington folks who realize that, while this is one grand little city, there is no need of standing still.

It is a move along the right line and is probably only the forerunner of other industries to come.

A big Saturday night pay roll placed in circulation among the merchants would be an ideal stimulant to give the local trade.

There are several other nice ripe plums in the manufacturing line ready to fall into the lap of Washington and the tree does not need to be shaken very hard either.

The handle factory alone will employ from a dozen to a score of men, brings its money in from the outside and distribute it among the merchants and the farmers who sell timber.

That means more business all around.

A Word About Roads

It is not too late to direct attention once more to the condition of the roads and the imperative need that every possible improvement be made before weather conditions become such that any attempt to improve the roads is impossible for months.

Of course, no extensive plan of improvement can be commenced now with safety. Bad weather is too near at hand.

It is likely, however, that two or three weeks of good working weather may be counted on before winter begins in earnest and into that time should be crowded every ounce of energy and every dollar available for the purpose of patching up, “bridging over” the bad roads entering the city. Extensive permanent improvements have solved the problem on several main roads entering the city and half a dozen miles or more out the work might be slowed up a little to give the roads near the county seat the benefit of the rush work.

That is not only for the benefit of the residents of the county seat, it is for the benefit alike of every person who markets at the county seat, and that takes in nearly the whole county.

Rush work on the temporary repairs every available hour should be the rule during the remaining good days.

MEETS DEATH UNDER TRAIN

William Wigginton, Barber, Cut to Pieces Under D. T. & I. Freight Train, Near South Charleston, Sometime Monday Night.

Word was received in this city Tuesday morning of the horrible death of William Wigginton, 51, barber, of this city, who was ground to pieces under a D. T. & I. freight train just south of South Charleston, Tuesday night.

So badly was the corpse mangled that the only means of identification was a letter found in the remnants of the coat, bearing the name "William Wigginton, Washington C. H., O."

The remains were discovered by the engine crew of an early train over the road, and as soon as the letter was discovered word was telegraphed to this city and late in the morning his brother Jonas Wigginton, of this city, left for South Charleston to identify the remains and bring them to this city for interment.

The deceased had left this city presumably aboard the D. T. & I. freight No. 54, at 6:09 p. m. and is supposed to have slipped from the car where he was riding and fell beneath the trucks.

Another train or two had passed over the remains.

Wigginton had been seen on the streets as late as five o'clock. For some little time he had been employed at the Tracey Barber Shop on East Court street, but was not working Monday.

It is supposed that he met death about eight o'clock Monday night, and it was between eight and nine o'clock Tuesday morning when the gruesome discovery was made and the remains carried on to South Charleston and turned over to an undertaker.

It is expected that the remains will be shipped to the home of his brother in this city, arriving on the 7:00 o'clock D. T. & I. train.

In the case of P. J. Burke vs the B. & O. Railroad Co., which grew out of the desire on the part of the latter for transfer tracks over the lands of the former, directly opposite the new union station, a new turn has been recorded. Following the decision of Judge Goldsberry sustaining the decree of the Probate Court, which was favorable to the B. & O., application was made Monday to the Court of Appeals, sitting at Xenia, for an injunction restraining the railroad company from entering upon the Burke lands and for an injunction restraining Judge Carpenter and Judge F. M. Allen from issuing any writs to put the railway company in possession.

The matter was presented to the Court by Attorney F. A. Chaffin, appearing for Mr. Burke, and the Court of Appeals, Judge H. L. Ferneding presiding, granted the injunction, setting the case for hearing on November 2.

DEATH SUMMONS LIFE LONG RESIDENT

Lewis Popejoy, one of Fayette county's oldest citizens, died in the gray dawn of Tuesday morning, on the farm four miles east of town on the Bloomingburg and Frankfort pike, upon which he was born eighty-six years ago.

Mr. Popejoy spent his life as a farmer, stock raiser and dealer. In earlier days he used to drive cattle overland to eastern markets.

For several years he conducted a meat market in this city.

Mr. Popejoy lived out his entire days on the home farm, his sister, Martha, who died three years ago, after a long and useful life embracing nearly 100 years, making the home with him.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock at the residence.

SABINA DRY BY 80 VOTES

Big Demonstration Follows Announcement in Sabina That Town Again Rejects Saloon—448 Votes Cast and 264 Are Dry and 184 Wet—No Disturbance.

In an election in which both factions worked incessantly, Sabina again rejected the saloon Monday, by 80 majority, the entire vote cast being 448 of which 264 were dry and 184 wet.

For some little time prior to the election the citizens of Sabina were actively engaged in the work of turning the election, both factions working hard.

Monday, throughout the day as the votes were being polled, the workers were busy, but no disturbance resulted, and a surprisingly large vote was polled early in the day.

About 30 minutes after the polls had closed the result was known, and men, women and children filled the streets, church bells were rung, and a big demonstration of rejoicing followed for sometime.

The west precinct cast 208 votes, 120 of which were dry and 88 wet, giving a majority of 32 for the dries in the west precinct. In the East precinct 240 votes were cast, 144 of which were dry and 96 wet, giving the dries 48 the lead.

Sabina has been without saloons for thirteen years, and repeated attempts to get the saloon back in the town have failed, and the present majority indicates that the dry element is gradually increasing at that point.

MINSHALL WOMAN AGAIN DRIVEN OUT

Learning that Elizabeth Minshall, woman bootlegger who served some time in the Xenia workhouse and was released upon her agreement to get out of town and stay out, was back in the city, Mayor Oster dispatched the police to investigate. Monday night, and the result was that the woman left town for Columbus on the Tuesday morning train, taking her belongings with her.

Mayor Oster was notified of the woman's presence by a woman who stated that the Minshall woman had sold a half pint of whiskey to her husband.

It is believed that inasmuch as many of President Wilson's ancestors lived in Chillicothe, and several relatives still reside there, that he will stop some little time.

Houses in Bagdad.

A Bagdad house in the summer is a fiery furnace, and no one, unless his name be Shadrach or Meshach or Abednego, could live within its four walls with comfort, and yet the natives have made a brave attempt to overcome the difficulties of their situation. Deep in the ground they have built cellars, or serdabs, and these serve as cooling chambers. The cellars are kept pretty dark. "The light enters," says one who has lived there, "through small windows, or openings, where, instead of glass, is placed a lattice of palm filled with a prickly camel's thorn. Several times a day the occupants sprinkle water on these thorns, and the moisture cools the hot wind as it passes through the rooms and gives a comparatively refreshing breeze. But toward night these cellars become unbearably close, and then the entire city mounts to the flat roofs, where it dines and sleeps."—Boston Transcript.

Warships in Battle.

In the days of wooden war vessels two frigates, or line-of-battle ships, might be lashed together and fire shot into each other's interiors for an indefinite period. When Paul Jones was summoned to surrender he replied that he had not yet begun to fight. At a distance of eight miles there would not be much conversation between hostile commanders, even by signals, and after a vessel is hit there isn't much question as to its future. A vessel may be injured by gunfire and get away, but if a floating steel fort is hit below the armor belt by a torpedo or has its deck penetrated by a fifteen inch shell which meets expectations in the promptness of its explosions it does not remain in sight many minutes, and the crew can't float around on spars until they are picked up, for there are no spars. In ten minutes the formidable warship goes under and carries everybody on board.—Philadelphia Record.

TEUTON ARMY PRESSES ON

ANOTHER POINT MENACED

London, Oct. 24.—The Dobrudja region of Roumania apparently is being overrun by the forces of the Teutonic allies.

Constanza, Roumania's chief port on the Black sea, already has fallen into the hands of the troops on the right wing of Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army, while the left wing is nearing the town of Tchernavoda, where the Danube is spanned by the bridge of the railroad running from Constanza to Bucharest.

Near the center of their front, which extends across Dobrudja from the sea to the Danube, the invaders have cut the railroad near Murfatlar and pushed their troops "far beyond" the railway line, according to Berlin.

Before the rapid advance of the Germans, Bulgarians and Turks—rapid despite heavy rains and soggy ground—the Russians and Roumanians are in retreat along the entire front, but, according to Petrograd, are offering stubborn resistance.

Aside from the operations in Dobrudja, another British smash at the German line in the Somme region of France, which netted them more than 1,000 yards of trenches east of Guendecourt and Lesbouefs and carried their front a step nearer the Bapaume-Peronne road, is the most notable incident of the fighting on any of the fronts. A gain also is recorded for the French northeast of Morval, which lies just to the south of the region where the British and Germans were in contact.

On the Transylvania front stubborn fighting is still in progress between the Teutonic allies and the Roumanians for the mountain passes and the territory inside Roumania which has been captured by the Austro-Germans.

The Russians having been cleared from the Narayevka river region of Galicia, the Austro-Germans have hurled a violent attack against other forces of Emperor Nicholas north of Brody, near the Volynia-Galicia border. The attacks was repulsed, according to Petrograd.

At the head of the Cerna river in Serbia, Berlin says, the Germans and Bulgarians, fighting side by side, have halted the offensive of the Serbs, who are now on the defensive.

The Italians have again begun a lively bombardment of Austrian positions on the Carso plateau, northwest of Trieste, probably presaging another attempt soon to press forward toward Austria's chief seaport on the Adriatic.

Ohio Coal Dealers Discuss Soaring Prices.

Columbus, Oct. 24.—Predictions are made that the price of Hocking lump coal in Ohio will reach $7 a ton by Nov. 1 if present conditions are not changed radically. Several local dealers raised the price of Hocking lump from $5.50 to $6. Other coals have made corresponding advances. One dealer said the price of coal had been advanced at the mines from $4 to $4.25, and that this made it necessary for him to raise his price from $5.50 to $6. He also has to stand shortage in weight, mine weights governing all purchased by dealers. The scarcity of coal is causing more stealing from the cars in transit, it is said.

Dealers who booked orders in the summer and have not been able to fill them say they are doing the very best to take care of the business, even though they are losing money.

One dealer was found who said that thought part of the advance had been forced by the operators. It was denied, he declared. He had advices from West Virginia that there were miles and miles of sidings there filled with loaded coal cars, and he was led to believe that operators were manufacturing part of the shortage and were profiting thereby.

This was strenuously denied by operators.

NICE RUCTION

(By American Press)

Mukden, Oct. 24.—J. E. Popper, the American chief engineer of the Mukden electric light works, was recently attacked and severely beaten by a mob of Japanese workmen in the employ of the Japanese Telephone company. The company for which Mr. Popper works is a Chinese organization. The chief engineer protested when some Japanese workmen interfered with Chinese workmen in his employ, who were making repairs on electric lines. The Japanese turned upon Mr. Popper. One of them struck him with a club, and he was thrown down and painfully injured before the American vice consul, M. G. Faulkner was able to rescue him from the mob. The American consulate has brought the assault to the attention of the Japanese consul general at Mukden. The Chinese governor at Mukden called at the American consulate and expressed his regret that the assault should have occurred upon Chinese soil.

GREY SEES DUTY OF THE NEUTRALS

Combination Suggested to Prevent Future Wars.

STEP WOULD BE WELCOMED

British Foreign Secretary States That the Entente Allies Are Not Prepared at This Time to Discuss Peace Terms and Suggests That Neutrals Expend Their Efforts to Make Another Great War Impossible.

London, Oct. 24.—That the allies are not prepared to discuss peace terms and give no indication of what their terms may be, but welcomed any efforts by neutral countries for a combination to prevent future wars, was the statement of Foreign Secretary Grey, who continued:

"I believe the best work neutrals can do for the moment is to try to prevent a war like this from happening again. If the nations had been united in such an agreement and prompt resolution to insist in 1914 that the dispute must be referred to a conference of The Hague, that the Belgian treaty must be observed, there would have been no war.

"Nations fighting for their existence, with daily increasing prospects of seeing victory brought nearer, still knowing that if they stop short of victory they stop short of everything for which they are struggling, can not be expected to spend much time thinking about what might happen after victory is secured. But the neutrals can do it. I observed that not only President Wilson, but Mr. Hughes, is supporting a league started, not with the object of interfering with the belligerents in this war, but which will do its part in making peace secure in the future.

"It is a work of neutral countries to which we should all look with favor and hope. Only, we must bear this in mind. If the nations after the war are able to do something effective by binding themselves with the common object of preserving peace, they must be prepared to undertake not more than they are able to uphold by force, and to see, when the time of crisis comes, that it is upheld by force."

The foreign secretary insisted upon the necessity after the war of arriving at some agreement with respect to the laws of war, arguing that the mere indiscriminate employment of all the resources of science is the prospect which threatens civilization and the existence of the race itself.

Mansfield, O., Oct. 24.—Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo told a large audience here that if he had interpreted correctly Charles E. War with Germany would have been the inevitable result after such rash and reckless action, said Mr. McAdoo.

GLORIA'S ROMANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpont Stafford, with his daughter Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers peevishly annoy her father, who, in the end, sends her to the hands of the ever-jealous governess. Gloria falls in love with the young Doctor Royce, who, five years later, has forgotten Gloria. She leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater. Freneau persuades her to forgive her father. Freneau goes sleigh-riding with Gloria. It results in pneumonia for Gloria, whose father is summoned. Freneau's finances being low, he approaches Pierpont Stafford. He threatens him with dire punishment. Her husband, Gloria's brother David, becomes suspicious. Freneau persuades Gloria to send him a bunch of telegrams. Gloria sends him a bunch of telegrams. Freneau sends her a letter, which she returns. She sees the supposed suicide of Freneau reported in the paper. Gloria swears to find the murderer of her lover. She accuses Freneau of the crime. She goes to the police. Gloria insists on going to Palm Beach. Again she sees Mulry there. He leaves for the North. She is recognized by her one-time captor, the young Indian. Freneau sees her rescuer at that time. Gloria attends night court; she sees Mulry there, also the tramp who attacked Freneau. But Judge Freeman releases him. She follows the tramp when he leaves the court, and falls into the hands of holdup men.

As Gloria sat in the wagon clinging to Royce's arm and shivering with shame, a blowy female with a long feather in her hat leaned over and plucked her by the sleeve. Gloria winced. The crone laughed and said: "Don't give your really truly name, dearie."

Gloria blushed a little deeper, but she was thankful for the hint, and said so. She advised Royce to do the same, and she sat about trying to imagine a good nom de patrol wagon.

It was wasted energy for, though she didn't know it, she was going right back to the night court she came from—going as a guest and not as a spectator. At that moment the police wires were notifying Judge Freeman that a raid had been made and a load of prisoners was coming. The courtroom was empty. The attendants were yawning. The judge was sentencing a young pickpocket. He dismissed court, rose and went to his retiring room. Gloria's father was there, impatiently looking at his watch and wondering where on earth his daughter was. He had searched for her in vain and returned to the place of her disappearance.

The judge was taking off his robe when the attendant called him to the telephone. He listened, nodded his head, put up the telephone and turned to Pierpont:

"We have to wait a little while. They have just raided an east side dance hall."

"Mr. Mulry, I've Got You at Last!"

RESOLUTION SIDETRACKED

Jewish Communicants of the Episcopal Church May Retain Jewish National Customs and Feasts, According to Ruling of the House of Deputies—No Change in System of Representation.

St. Louis, Oct. 24.—Jews who have accepted Jesus Christ as the Messiah and have become communicants of the Protestant Episcopal church may retain, if they desire, the Jewish national and racial customs and feasts, according to a ruling of the house of deputies of the church's general convention.

The action was based upon a resolution that had been presented by Rev. Floyd W. Tompkins of Philadelphia. It was asserted that there are in the United States hundreds of Jews who have accepted Christ and yet have hesitated to affiliate with Christian denominations because they do not care to abandon their racial customs.

Efforts to have women permitted to sit as delegates in the house of deputies of the general convention were abandoned when, on the heels of a rejection at the hands of the house of bishops, a lower house committee reported the proposal adversely. R. H. Gardiner of Gardiner, Me., sponsor for the movement, consented to his resolution's being tabled.

The house of deputies refused, by doctored vote, to adopt the recommendation of a special committee pro-

RIOT TRIALS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Lima, O., October 24. — Milton Spyker, according to testimony today in the riot trials here, was the man who addressed the mob from the court house steps on August 30 preceding the reign of violence in which Sheriff Sherman Eley was threatened with lynching because he refused to deliver into the hands of the mob the prisoner, Charles Daniels, negro, alleged assailant of Mrs. Vivian Baber.

P. M. Driver, an insurance man, testified he saw Spyker mount the steps and heard him urge the rioters to follow Daniels if attempts were made to remove him from the court jail.

About twenty Lima policemen were to testify today.

Once Navy's Only Submarine, Now Playground for Children

ONCE A SUBMARINE, NOW A CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND

This queer looking craft, looking altogether unlike the newer types of submarines in the American, German and other navies, was the first Holland submarine built for the United States navy. It was photographed a few days ago in Philadelphia, where it lay like a stranded whale in an empty lot opposite

Franklin field before being taken to New York for display at an exhibition. The youngsters seen playing in the interior and on top of the queer craft are pupils of a nearby school who found the submarine a "dandy" playground. It appealed strongly to their imaginations.

He was followed by the Vice President of the Chamber, who said, in the name of the Socialist Party, "We always considered that the late Prime Minister was our political enemy, but the principles and traditions of the Socialists are opposed to deeds of terrorism, from a political standpoint, and we express the deepest and most sincere regret at the tragic fate of this man."

CINCINNATI COPS BALK SWINDLERS

Alleged Wire-Tapper Thieves Nabbed At Pennsylvania Station.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cincinnati, October 24. — Federal officers and city detectives who made an arrest today at the Pennsylvania allege that an attempt to swindle George Palmer, farmer of Millersburg, O., out of $5,000 by a wire tapping trick, was frustrated. The man is held on suspicion pending further investigation of the case. Palmer in fear of his life, came to Cincinnati.

The Title "Engineer."

It is unfortunate, according to the Engineering Record, that in America most people associate the word "engineer" with a man who runs an engine or a boiler. Even the man who operates the boilers of an apartment building is called an "engineer," although the name is entirely a misnomer when applied to him. He may be a good mechanic, but he is not an engineer. The gray haired man who drives the locomotive of a transcontinental limited and who holds the lives of hundreds of human beings in his care belongs to the very highest type of mechanic, but he is not an engineer, except in the United States and Canada. All foreign languages have words that properly designate the work these men are doing. In our country there is no word to distinguish them from the bridge builder, the sanitary expert, etc.

Palo Alto.

The battle of Palo Alto, fought on May 8, 1846, on a Texas prairie about eight miles northeast of Matamoras, was the first important struggle in the war between the United States and Mexico. General Taylor, marching with less than 2,300 American troops from Point Isabel toward Fort Brown, encountered a Mexican army of about 6,000, commanded by General Arista.

Shortly after noon the battle was opened by the Mexican artillery and cavalry. After fighting five hours the Mexicans gave way and retreated in great disorder, their losses being 102 killed, 127 wounded and many more missing. The Americans lost four killed and 127 wounded. During the battle Major Ringgold of the American flying artillery, which had much to do with winning the victory, was mortally wounded by a small cannon ball which passed through both of his thighs. He died four days later at Point Isabel.
